Hello Renata,

I am a software engineer and I am using various kind of software for 20 years. I like Microsoft's software and I feel that Microsoft really helped consumers like me to provide a comprehensive software package with reasonable price.

Microsoft acquired market fairly through technology inovation. We shouldn't punish a good company just because they are rich. AOL shouldn't join the game so late if they feel that they have a good point. AOL's motivation is very questionable in my point of view.

Regards,
